

Alma

Lesson 4 - To plan a narrative using a story board

Outline of the lesson:

Today you are going to use a story board to order the main events from the animation 'Alma'.

You are then going to plan what happens next to Alma (after she has been turned into a doll).

Using the images on the next few slides, plan your narrative of Alma.

Remember to make notes (using bullet points) on the following:

- setting description
- character thoughts and feelings
- character actions and motivations
- include figurative language

There is a copy of the planning sheet attached to the homelearning pages to help you.

Now plan an alternative ending.

What happens next to the doll of Alma?

- Does she escape?
- Does the doll shop owner appear?
- Can Alma help the next child and stop her becoming another victim of the magical doll shop?

It's up to you!

Write your ideas down so you have them to refer to tomorrow when you will be writing your narrative.
